BROOKLYN IN FULL SYMPATHY. What may be expected from Kings County is shown by the following statement from Senator George W. Brush and Walter B. Atterbury, one of the delegates to the St. Louis National Convention who voted for McKinley. They were appointed a committee to express the sentiments of the representative Republicans regarding this movement. They say:

At a meeting of a number of representative Republicans of Brooklyn, held this (Tuesday) evening we were authorized as a committee to state on their behalf that they are in full sympathy with every attempt to improve the standard of political methods. Kings County has shown by deeds in the past where she stands. She was the ploneer in this work three years ago, and, having begun it, will surely co-operate with every effort within the party lines to elect delegates to the State Convention who will select a ticket in full sympathy with the National ticket and platform.

ABOUT THE LOCAL MACHINE.

Appended is what eminent Republicans, whose names are given, have said of the present Republican organization in the county over their an investigation of the enrolment and primaries last year:

last year:

The general conclusion drawn from the investigation, and from which the evidence leaves no possible avenue of escape, is that the men in control of the county organization have devised and carried through a deliberate scheme of wholesale fraud, intended to secure for themselves, without regard to the will of the majority of the Republican voters, the absolute control of the organization and of the delegations from this city to the National and State Conventions. The frauds were not sporadic. They were so general throughout the city the methods pursued in various parts of the city were so similar, and the work was so skiffully concentrated at the points where it would most surely accomplish its purpose, that the proof of a carefully prearranged design is irresistible.

Another most significant conclusion, amply substantiated by our investigation, is that the men who had charge of the scheme for the wholesale padding of the Republican rolls and the debauching of the primaries received deliberate and systematic co-operation from the local Tammany Hall leaders. In the districts where the padding was the worst it was found that in almost every election district one or more members of the Tammany Hall General Committee, or of the Tammany Hall Assembly District Committee, enrolled themselves as Republicans, and brought with them a band of Tammany places in the varying necessities and opportunities of the case.

It follows that the organization which resulted

UNPARALLELED ROTTENNESS.

In view of these results there can be no escape from the conclusion that the present enrolment is rotten to a degree never before paralleled in the history of the party, and that the primaries and conventions in many Assembly districts based upon it. INDIANA ALL RIGHT, SAYS MR. MILLER. by which delegates were elected to the County Com-mittee for 1896, are unworthy of serious consideration.

An organization based upon such wholesale frauds cannot command the confidence of the Republican party nor of the public.

Primaries are the fountain-head of all representative government, and the primaries necessarily spring from the enrolment. If the latter is fraudulent, the entire party structure is tainted and unworthy of confidence and support. This is a subject in which every Republican, whether his name be upon the rolls or not, is interested, for all look to the organization of a party to secure honest conventions and truly representative nominations.

These facts are now known and appreciated by the voters in New-York City.

They dishonor and discredit the Republican party organization in this county. The County Committee, as at present organized, is not representative of the Republican voters of this county; its officers have been elected by delegates whose members have been determined largely on the basis of the number of Tammany Democrats on the Republican election district rolls, and the election of these delegates has been carried at the primaries by these same Tammany Democrats.

The County Committee may secure the election of spurious delegates to the Republican State and National Conventions soon to be held, but it is power-less for all other purposes, as it is devoid of the confidence of the self-respecting voters.

This statement is made by Republicans of experience in the machinery of the party, who are not merbidly sensitive, who make no pretence to superior virtue, but who resent as an outrage the wholesale political thefts already perpetrated and seeming to be perpetrated by the present organization.

SOUTHERN BUSINESS MEN AND SILVER. MANY OF THEM DECLARING THEIR INTENTION

TO DESERT THE DEMOCRACY. Washington, June 30 (Special).-Southern business men who visit Washington all tell substantially the same story about the free-silver movement in their Here are two examples:

said P. P. Byrd, a prominent merchant and cotton buyer of Pine Bluff, in conversation with a "Post" reporter. "The politicians and farmers are all that way, but the business men and wage-earners don't take any stock in the 16 to 1 heresy and a great many of them are declaring that they will either vote for McKinley or not vote at all. If it was not for the deep-scated dislike the people have for the Republican party and the fear of negro domination. I think that a free-silver ticket would have a hard time to win, even in Arkansas."

"I am so bitterly opposed to the free-silver movement that I have declared my intention of voting for McKinley, but the chances are I will not vote at all," said M. S. B. Hicks, a young wholesale merchant, of Shreveport, La., at Willard's. "It is a hard thing for a man who was born and reared amidst Demo-cratic surroundings and who never cast a vote ex-cept for the nominee of that party, to break away and give a bailot for the opposition, but that is what plenty of men in my community are threatening to do if the Chicago Convention nominates a free-sliver candidate. In Louisiana, as I view it, there are three classes of men who favor free sliver—the is-norant, who have made no study of the question; the politicians, who use it as a means to get or retain office, and the fellows who think they see an easy way of getting out of debt if that policy should pre-vail. In my judgment free sliver would bring ruin on the country; the banks would refuse to let out a dellar, and a panic would ensue, the like of which we have never seen. Only the other day I had to sign a gold contract, and such instruments are becoming quite common in my section because of this sliver agitation. Still, as the issue has to be fought out sooner or later, it might as well be met now as in the future." for a man who was born and reared amidst Demo-

Besides this great introduction of a higher tanif. Besides this great issue he thought the monetary controversy was a subsidiary question and should be allowed to rest until the question of protection had been decided. American prosperity was dependent upon protection, he averred, and he looked upon the coming campaign as more fraught with epoch making than even that which sent Lincoln to the Presidency. S. S. Assemblyman George C. Austin, in a brief address, urget that it was undestrable to separate protection from the sound-money question, as was suggested by the first speaker. W. H. H. Miller, who was Attorney-General under President Harrison, came to the city yesterday, and he at once took issue with those who have been saying that Indiana, which is his home, will be carried by the free-coinage men. "I believe that the Republicans will win in Indiana this fall," he said at the Waldorf yesterday, "because the majority of the people of the State are for protection and sound money. There is, to a certain extent, the free-silver taint in the Republican party in the State, but the most of the free-coinage sentiment is in the Democratic ranks, and the silver men dominate that party. Upon a strict party vote, it is my opinion that Indiana would go Republican, but I also believe that there are many men in the State who are Democrats, but who are more than that, gold-standard men, and will vote the Republican teket in preference to upholding their party in the free-coinage fallacy."

The frear that the nomination of Governor Claude Matchews to either one of the places on the National ticket would carry the State for the Democracy does not find a lodging place in Mr. Miller's breast. "The Republicans will win in the State," he declared, "even if Governor Matthews is on the National ticket."

he made the other day had been misunderstood and that he had been misquoted, and his position, there-fore, had been misrepresented. It was understood last evening that the General was preparing a state-ment on the subject.

A LIVELY HOUSE SITTING

COMMONERS DEBATE FOR SEVENTEEN AND ONE

London, June 30 .- Yesterday's sitting of the Hous of Commons was protracted until 8.30 o'clock this morning, when the report stage of the Irish Land bill was passed. The night was devoted to debating various clauses and amendments to the bill, the de bate proceeding in an orderly manner until 2 o'clock, despite the occasional resort of the Government to closure. The Government kept a full force of supporters in attendance throughout the night, and the successive amendments which were offered by the Opposition were brought to a vote under the application of closure and rejected by the almost

In the later hours of the sitting repeated uproars occurred, and the Speaker was kept busy in his efforts to preserve order. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, characterized the amendments offered by the Opposition as ridiculou and frivolous, and declared that the Opposition House of Commons to the level of a farce. James H. Dalziel, Liberal member for the Kirkcaldy District, called the attention of the Speake caldy District, called the attention of the Speaker to the riotous conduct of Lord Hugh Cecil, member for Greenwich, and son of Lord Salizbury, in leading some of his Conservative colleagues in concerted interference with the discussion of the questions before the House. Mr. Dalziel's remarks were greeted with yells and jeers from the Government benches, and the Speaker begged the members to be quiet and allow the debate to proceed.

Dr. Tanner, Nationalist member for Mid-Cork, was rebuked for shouting "Gag!" when one of the clauses of the bill was rarsed under closure. The leaders on both sides were present throughout the sitting. The House adjourned at 8.29 o'clock this morning, after a continuous sitting of seventeen and a half hours. The question of the third reading of the Irish Land bill will be taken up to-morrow.

NARROW ESCAPE OF H. M. S. COMUS.

Victoria, B. C., June 20.-The British warship Comus, which arrived here from San Francisco on Sunsiay, had a most eventful trip. It was ten days on the voyage, and its safe arrival here is attributed alone to the cleverest seamanship. Storms which would have caused nearly twenty-four hours' delay to mail ships detained the Comus for days, forcing it miles out of its course. Its jibboom was arried away and other damage done.

As Cape Flattery was neared the sea grew calm, and on Saturday afternoon last a wreck was sighted. A mast projected ten feet or so out of water, and supporting it, several feet submerged, was the hull of what was Judged at the distance to be a ninety-foot schooner. Wreckage lay piecemeal around, but the only thing distinguishable was a green-painted starboard anchor buoy, with a hawser attached.

Montreal, Que., June 30.-It is said here on good authority that Lord Aberdeen lost no time, as soon as it became known that the Hon. Wilfred Laurier had carried the country, in recommending the Lib-eral leader to Her Majesty for knighthood. It is believed that when the new Prime Minister meets the House it will be under the title of Sir Wilfred Laurier.

Toronto, June 30,-The Hon. Wilfred Laurier's policy, outlined by "The Globe," will include: (1) A new franchise act; (2) a new rearrangement of the new franchise act; (2) a new rearrangement of the constituencies; (3) retrenchment in public expenditures; (4) development of Canada's mining resources and boomer immigration by drawing atention to Canada's opportunities "in an intelligent, truthful, discriminating way"; (5) tariff reform. The latter will not be on a basks of free trade, but half way between free trade, as they have it in England, and McKinleylam, as it exists in the United States. The Liberal tariff policy is to be east on a moderate protective basis.

COLORED PEOPLE WIN A VICTORY. THEIR CHILDREN ALLOWED TO ATTEND SCHOOL WITH WHITES IN JAMAICA.

decision of Justice Garretson, in the Queens County Court, in Long Island, City, yesterday after-noon, the colored people in the village of Jamaica have won a big victory over the Board of Education of that place. It was the fight between the colored people and the Board over the sending of the children of the colored people to the school set aside for them.

Samuel B. Cisco, a taxpayer of Jamaica, refused to send his children to the colored school, claiming that the Constitution gave to him the right to send his children to the school at which the white children attended. He was affected twice, was fined $5 once, was acquitted the next time, and when he continued to refuse to send his children to school he was indicted for violating the Compulsory School has was indicted for violating the Compusery Schoolaw.

His trial took place yesterday. When the prosecution was finished, the counsel for the accused made a motion to dismiss the case, and this ladge Garretson did. In his decision he said the consolidation act gave to colored children equal rights with the whites in attending public schools, and he did that the fact that there were two schools as merely a social condition, with which the Lagranger of the indictment.
